

DRIVER TOOK A NAP, HORSE TOOK A TUMBLE, CURTAINS! THAT'S ALL

But When Owner Gets Hold of Tommy Moran There'll Be War.

Tommy Moran was sound asleep on the seat of his truck as it was passing the ferry house at South Ferry to-day. Suddenly the truck stopped. Tommy Moran woke up.

His horse was gone. He couldn't see the horse. The reins had been dragged out of his hands. Without hesitating a minute Tommy Moran slid over the back of the seat, skipped the length of the truck, jumped to the ground from the tailboard and disappeared.

The horse was not far away. If Tommy had known it—which he will as soon as his employer, Michael Bradley of No. 68 Hudson street, gets hold of him. Tommy in his sleep had driven his steed—an aged and sedate specimen—into a sewer excavation, eight feet deep. As the animal fell into the hole the harness and shafts broke and the reins were pulled out of the sleeping driver's hands. That was why Tommy Moran didn't see his horse when he woke up.

Twenty men worked an hour extricating the horse. Some one telephoned to Michael Bradley during the operation and what Michael Bradley said when he arrived on the scene was something of class even for a truckman.

The horse was not injured. If Michael Bradley does to Tommy Moran what he says he is going to do it would have been better for Tommy had he gone into the ditch with the horse.

CAUGHT IN A CAVE-IN.

One Killed, Another Hurt In Bath
Beach Accident.

A section of sewer under construction in Seventy-sixth street, Bath Beach, between Thirtieth and Fourteenth avenues, caved in to-day. Forty or more workmen were in the trench. All but two scrambled to safety.

Dominic Solerio of Sixty-first street and Fourteenth avenue was caught under fourteen feet of earth and stone and was dead when dug out. Tony Mattacchio of No. 324 Sixtieth street was covered with loose earth and, though unconscious when found, was believed to have suffered more from suffocation than anything else. In doubt as to his chances, Father O'Hanlon of the Church of Our Lady of Guadalupe, was lowered into the trench in a hoist bucket and gave him absolution.

APPRAISALS OF ESTATES.

Deputy State Comptroller Frazer transmitted the following appraisals of estates under the Inheritance Tax law to-day to the Transfer Tax Office of the Surrogate's Court:

Samuel Sinn, a member of the Stock Exchange firm of Sternberger, Sinn & Co., who died May 15, 1908, left $47,250. The widow of the decedent is the principal beneficiary.

Michael Larkin, who died Jan. 26, 1912, left $109,600.

August Brakman of No. 550 Longwood avenue, the Bronx, who died April 7, 1910, left $120,341.

Richard S. Reilly, who died May 29, 1911, left $17,414.

William Friedrich, who died July 1, 1911, left $16,541.

Adam Kramer, who died Nov. 17, 1911, left $11,351.

Carpenter's Body Found.

Police of Harbor Squad D found the body of Charles Carpenter of No. 25 Dyckman street in Harlem River to-day near One Hundred and Fifty-seventh street. Carpenter disappeared a week ago Sunday. He took a trip in a motorboat which was moored near the house. The boat was found at the float. The police believe he fell overboard while working about the boat.

Letters of a Slim-Made Woman to Her Fat Sister

Ninth Letter: On taking the Weight
Off Your Feet

Dear Slim—Have just returned from the Art Exhibit, and you'll laugh when I tell you the thing that has impressed me most. It's the fact that with all the standing and waiting my feet aren't tired a bit.

You remember the exhibit last year—how I cried about my feet—how my heels ached like the toothache and the blisters and corns—how I never forgot it.

It set me to thinking and "Mrs. Columbus" has discovered something that has my entire weight that made my feet burn and ache. I used to think it was rheumatism, but since I got that wonderful Marmosa Prescription and took it all the time—and they're better shaped, too—if I do say it myself. My ankle is trim, and the "blisters" on top of my foot has faded away.

Oh, what a list of blessings have come to me in place of that awful curse of fat—limbs, health, good digestion, better complexion and a greater capacity for enjoyment of life's good things.

Yes, sir, dear, that formula will be a benefit, not a harm to you. Just get from your druggist the 1/2 oz. powder Marmosa, 1/2 oz. Canara Aromatic and 1/2 oz. Peppermint water; take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime. Take the mixture off your feet, give your feet a rest and your foot trouble will disappear.

Remember the gratifying experience of your joyful letter.
